

clude all of such structures.

OFF. REC. 2861 PAGE 210

(ii) Interior boundaries -- the center line of boundary walls between apartments.

(d) Appurtenances. The ownership of each apartment shall include, and there shall pass with each apartment as appurtenances thereto whether or not separately described, all of the rights, title and interest of an apartment owner in the condominium property which shall include but not be limited to

(1) General Common Elements. An undivided share in the general common elements.

(2) Limited common elements. An undivided share in the limited common elements, in amount set forth in deed, including but not limited to the parcel upon which the apartment building is located, and all parts of such building not included within the apartment.

(3) Automobile parking, assigned to the apartment, as shown by survey, and the exclusive right to use the same.

(4) Easements for the benefit of the apartment.

(5) Association membership and interests in funds and assets held by the Association.

(6) Provided, however, that such appurtenances shall be subject to the easements for the benefit of other apartments and the Association.

(e) Easement to air space. The appurtenances shall include an exclusive easement for the use of the air space occupied by the apartment as it exists at any particular time and as the apartment may be altered or reconstructed from time to time, which easement shall be terminated automatically in any air space which is vacated from time to time.

(f) Cross easements. The appurtenances shall include the following easements from each apartment owner to each